ELECTRIC MEETING

Stockholders of Electric and Water Co. Discuss Plans of Reorganization

A meeting of the stockholders of the Electric and Water Company was held at the city hall last evening for the purpose of discussing plans of reorganizing the company in the way of improving the plant, and adopting a set of by-laws, and doing what other business might come before the body.

Upon the meeting being called to order by President Arvin, the roll was called by Secretary Conway and it was found that there was a majority of the stock present, so that any business that came before the company could be transacted.

The company had had a plan of improvement of the plant and system prepared by V. D. Simons, who was present at the meeting, and read a brief synopsis of his plan. He proposed to entirely rebuild the outside wiring of the system, so that the entire load will be carried by twelve large transformers, instead of by a number of small ones as is now done. Also to increase the size of the wire where necessary and rebuild with new poles wherever necessary to do so in order to put the system in a safe condition. The plan also included a central distributing plant with a switchboard so sufficient capacity so that each circuit could be properly handled from the office or main distributing station. Mr. Simons had all the details of the proposed system worked out and found that the cost of rebuilding as proposed would be a trifle over $219,000. Then a part of the old equipment could be sold which would bring the expenditure down to about $15,000.

Mr. T. A. Taylor then made a motion that the chair appoint a committee of six whose business it should be to formulate a plan of reorganization for the company. He explained that it was his opinion that when it came to borrow money to put the plant in first class shape it would be possible to do so under the present plan of organization. In fact it was his opinion that the company should be changed from a co-operative concern to a straight corporation, the stock to be sold to the present stockholders of the company if they wished to take it, and after such reorganization there would be no trouble in securing what funds were necessary to make the necessary improvements, which, he explained, was the object of the reorganization. There was considerable discussion of the plan, both for and against, among those who spoke against the plan being J. A. Gaylor. He explained that the plan had been taken by the citizens and made a co-operative concern in order that the people who were using the light might be the producers and thus save what money might otherwise go to some person who owned the plant and ran it for his own profit. That the plan might be a bad shape, but that it was a great deal better than it was when the co-operative company took hold of it. Mr. Gaylor stated, however, that he was in favor of the proposed motion as set by Mr. Taylor and thought it would be a good thing to have the committee appointed and have them submit their plan of reorganization.

The chair appointed as such committee Messrs. G. M. Hill, T. A. Taylor, J. A. Gaylor, John M. Schumacher, B. R. Gargins and D. D. Conway.

As the discussions had been at some length and it was getting late the meeting adjourned until the 12th of November, when the committee is supposed to make its report and some action will probably be taken on the matter.

It might be stated in connection herewith that electricians who have looked over the plant state that it is in very bad shape, the wiring in many instances being too small to carry the load, while the poles in many instances are in bad shape, making it dangerous for people who are walking along the streets.

Supreme Court Cases.

Gargins, Brazee & Biers on all three of their cases in the supreme court which have been up for trial recently. The first one was the case of Blankens against the Badger Box & Lumber Co., for personal injury. In the lower court the plaintiff got a verdict for $3000. The case was appealed by the defendant and the decision of the lower court was reversed and a new trial ordered.

In the case of Lessie vs. Lessie, for divorce, the decision of the lower court was affirmed, and divorce granted.

In the famous Redepens case against the town of Rock, the plaintiff was given a verdict for $2000 to the lower court, which was carried to the supreme court by the defendant town, and in the supreme court the verdict of the lower court was affirmed.

The coal men report that they have been kept on the jump since Monday morning. It seems that the continued warm weather had made some people think that they were not going to have any more cold weather and had been so concerned about securing a supply of ice that they had entirely forgotten about coal. We have some mild winters here, but the oldest inhabitant cannot recall the time when it was not necessary to get in about the usual amount of fuel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bassett returned the fore part of the week from a month's visit with relatives in the southern part of the state.

The Man for Sheriff.

When the democrats nominated Michael Griffin of Marshfield for the office of sheriff of Wood County they made a most happy selection from every standpoint. Mr. Griffin has the confidence of every man, woman and child in Marshfield, which he has gained in the manner in which he has conducted himself in years gone by.

Mr. Griffin was born in Canada, but came to Wisconsin with his parents when he was but three years of age. His people settling in Columbia county. He lived in that section of the state until he grew to manhood, when he came to Marshfield, where he has since resided. He went to Marshfield 24 years ago, and during the first eight years there operated a logging train for the Union company. He was then selected by the council of that city to act as a member of the police force, and he filled the position so acceptably that he has been chosen year after year to look after the peace and uphold the dignity of the city, he now being in the sixteenth year of his service.

Mr. Griffin is a man 47 years of age, but he might tell you that he was ten years younger and there would be no reason to dispute his word, as he has the clear eye and unwrinkled face of a man who has led a temperate life. The people of Wood County will make no mistake if they vote for Mr. Griffin on election day, as there is no question but what he will make an honest, careful and conscientious officer.

The city council met in special session on Monday evening to act on the subject of widening of Vine street and the session was only a short one.

The action of the board of public works in the awarding of damages and the assessing of benefits was approved by the council, and this is all there is to the matter except the payment of the money into the city treasurer, when the street will be widened.

It seems however, that there are a number of interested parties who are not just exactly satisfied with the matter as it has come thru. To begin with, Mr. Bozinger, who owns the land that will be taken to widen the street, is not satisfied with the amount that has been awarded him, and then there are a number of property holders who are within the 500 foot limit and the 1000 foot limit who are not satisfied with the amount they will have to pay in order to have the street widened.

Of course Mr. Bozinger can appeal his trouble to the courts and have it settled there, but many of the small property holders, who are assessed for varying amounts from twenty-five cents up to a few dollars, are not in a position to do this.

While the law is plain enough on the subject, it is a little unfair that people living a thousand feet from the proposed improvement should be compelled to pay a part of the cost, while their neighbor, next to them will have to pay nothing except that amount that is put into the general tax of the city.

For instance, the 1000 foot line extends to and takes in a number of pieces of property on the west side of the river, and it seems hardly fair that these property owners should have a special assessment put against their property for the improvement. They are benefited no more than the people at large, and it does not seem as if they should pay any more. Then there are some small property owners on the east side who, while they are within the 1000 foot mark, will derive no appreciable benefit from the change. We refer more especially to the residence owners who may live along Oak street or on North Third or South Second street. They may never use the street that it is proposed to widen, and we can not see how it would benefit them any more than it does any property owner about the city. In fact not nearly as much as some who live further away, but by their location, are compelled to use the street right along.

Some of those who have been assessed for a considerable amount say that they will not pay the special tax, so there may be more about the matter later on.

Prompt Payment of Death Claim

Henry E. Fitch, clerk of Nekosau Camp 2376 Modern Woodmen of America, received a draft from the home office of the order for Mrs. Mary Brooks, widow of Charles E. Brooks, within six days from the time and proof and notice of death had been mailed to head clerk of the Order. The order has always been one of the promptest of the fraternal societies in the payment of claims and this case is no exception to the rule.

Miss Elizabeth Swisher of St. Marys, Idaho, is a guest at the John Farish home. A party of young people were entertained at the Farish home on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Swisher at which a very pleasant time was had.

PLENTY OF ROADS.

Another Plan to Provide Adams County With Railway Connections from Outside.

It is an old saying that "rain falls on the just and the unjust," and it seems there may be some truth in the saying. Adams County has been without a railroad since long before the oldest inhabitant can remember, but if promoters may be believed there are now at least two companies that are figuring on furnishing the benighted inhabitants down there with some method of transportation besides that given by the wildest horse. The good thing about it is that they are all going to end at Grand Rapids. Of course we now have plenty of railroads, but a couple of more coming in here will not inconvenience us to any appreciable extent. The following from the Portage Democrat tells of the latest plan for furnishing Adams County with a railroad:

"J. N. Braun, president and general manager of The Western Transportation Co. of St. Paul was in the city today. He has been sounding some time in Brainerd, Oxford, Friendship and points in Adams county talking over the advisability of building a railway from Portage to Friendship and to Grand Rapids. He held a meeting in Friendship last Thursday night and found the people there to favor the line coming into Portage much more than into Kithorn. The night before they had held a meeting, however, at which a gentleman was present representing the Milwaukee company that is considering building a line from Kithorn to Friendship. A number of them signed a petition asking that the Adams County board should provide that it be given this company operation from Kithorn in a given time. After hearing Mr. Braun's proposition they declared that his was much the better and that they were extremely desirous of having this and started at Portage.

At Brainerd, the Spring and Oxford people are extremely enthusiastic over the Portage route and he has assurance now of $150,000 cash for the project. Mr. Braun in conversation with a number of Portage business men found that they were heartily in favor of the proposed line and they were willing to co-operate with him. He desires no bonds, but of course will be glad to accept aid financially. Should the people of Oxford and Brainerd continue to keep up the interest which they have thus far displayed Mr. Braun declares that he will have his surveys in Portage ready to lay out the route from this city, through Brainerd, to Oxford within thirty to sixty days. As far as practicable he will follow the route as laid out for the old "air line," the road-bed of which is quite discernible even now. Of course this will depend upon the reasonableness with which the right of way can be purchased. The extension of the line to Friendship and northward will depend upon what is done by these people in regard to the selection of the Portage or Kithorn outlet for the road.

There is no question but that the practicable place for the line to connect with other roads is at Portage. From here freight or passengers can go in any direction, east, west, north or south. Few places are so favorably situated in regard to railroad as this city. Then why not have the proposed new line come here?

Should the line become a certainty, Mr. Braun would have it incorporated as a steam railway and would use steam for its freight traffic. For passenger service he would use the latest invention in that line, a combination of gasoline and electricity. Each car is equipped with its own electric power plant. There would be no trolley or third rail system getting its power from one place. Each car would generate its own electricity with which it would be propelled. In case of an accident only one car would be out of service and not the entire system as when a breakdown occurs at a central generating power plant.

Mr. Braun's project and proposition looks good and deserves the support of Portage and vicinity. He figures that it will cost $10,000 a mile to build and equip the road. Mr. Braun is the same man who is at the head of the road being built from Galeville to Ettick, Wis.

Death of Patrick Case.

Patrick Case, one of the old residents of this part of the country, died at Huron, S. D., on Sunday, death being caused by pneumonia. Deceased was seventy-two years of age, and had lived many years in the town of Rudolph where he owns a fine farm. Mr. and Mrs. Case were visiting at the home of a daughter when Mr. Case was taken sick.

The remains were brought to this city and the funeral services held this morning from the Catholic church. Rev. Wm. Reding officiating.

Boettcher-Wersheim.

Charles Wersheim and Miss Lena Belle Boettcher were married on Wednesday in this city. Rev. Wm. Nommensen officiating. Miss Ida S. Hueller acted as bridesmaid and Gustave Boettcher as best man. The newly wed pair took their departure the same day for a short wedding tour and will make their home in Green Bay.

BIRTHS.

A son to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Worden on Monday.

Schnabel-Lind.

On Wednesday morning Sept. 30th at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate relatives, occurred the marriage of Miss Hattie Schnabel to Melvin O. Lind of Hillsboro, Wis. The ceremony took place at the Catholic rectory, Rev. Wm. Reding officiating. Miss Emma Schnabel attended the bride as maid of honor and Dr. E. A. Forrester of Hillsboro acted as best man. After the ceremony the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents on Oak Street where an elegant wedding breakfast was served.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schnabel and was born in this city. She is a graduate of the Grand Rapids High school and has taught three years in the Hillsboro high school.

Mr. Lind is one of the leading business men of Hillsboro, being engaged in the hardware business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lind left on the noon train for Tacoma and Seattle, Washington and will be at home after Nov. 15th at Hillsboro, Wis.

The Tribune wishes with the many friends of the bride in extending congratulations and wishing them a long and happy wedded life.

New Bridge Completed.

The Consolidated people met their new stone bridge building this week and they certainly have a very handsome structure. During an interview with Mr. Mead that gentleman stated that when the company has completed the improvement on the island that it will have all the appearance of a public park, and will be as useful to the people in general as would a public park. Visitors will be welcome at all times during the day and evening and it will be as good as a favorite place for a stroll for anybody not taking a walk about the city.

Mr. Mead and the work commission had looked to secure the land now occupied by the Tribune office building and brick barn with a view to parking this also, and making it a part of the system, but found upon investigation that the cost would be rather more than they could stand at the present time.

Homes on the Island.

Messrs. E. M. Pease and George W. Mead have purchased what is known as the Williams Island south of the city and it is their intention to erect dwelling houses thereon the coming summer. A steel bridge will be built across from the main land to the island and when this is completed it will give ready access to the island. The island contains something like three acres of land and there will be an abundance of room for two dwelling houses with nice grounds surrounding, there being some timber on the island, although the latter is somewhat small.

Is this "Republican Prosperity?"

The following editorial is taken from the Appleton (Minn.) Press, a republican newspaper:

In the popular mind "prosperity" is associated with the republican and "hard times" with the democratic party. Republican editors have often the warning or threat that our boasted republican prosperity would vanish within a fortnight after the election of Bryan in our ears so long that if we don't actually believe we do we vacillate for it. If this be true, it is a remarkable admission and indicates a remarkable state of affairs. If republican prosperity is such an airy, volatile thing it can not be founded on the bed rock of right and justice; it can not be built upon our wealth of mines and forests and farms and factories. It is a something economically wrong. If Bryan is elected, will there be fewer fishes in our lakes and rivers, less timber in our forests, less ore in our mines, fewer dollars in the nation's coffers? Will our countless acres shrivel up; the millions of cattle of our pasture lands perish as if by plague; will our factories and furnaces vanish? Why will prosperity flow from this great country? Will there be fewer hands to labor; fewer mouths to feed; fewer backs to clothe? The threat that prosperity will vanish with republican rule is either a bugbear with which to frighten the timid hearted, or it is a confession of the most strenuous wrong, the most insidious abuse of power the world has ever seen, and in either case it is the most contemptible kind of demagoguery. For the man who plays upon the fear of the people is surely a demagogue, or if he has the power to back up his threats with results worse still a traitor who ought to hang higher than Haman. Republican brethren, do you not know that when you reiterate this "scent talk" you are leading yourself to the uses of industrial pirates; do you not know that to reiterate that hard times would follow Bryan's election is the most terrible arraignment of the republican party that can be made? Let's defeat that not take one jot or tittle from the natural resources of our country; let's not make forerunners of the band of willing workers, nor lessen the legitimate needs of the people by so much as one loaf of bread or one pair of shoes. The defeat could not affect the natural sources of wealth, the supply of labor nor the legitimate demand for the products of man's skill, and therefore if the assertion that honest laborers would starve if Bryan is elected means anything it means that the beneficiaries of republican rule would not be satisfied with an equitable division of profits, and so would want and bring on hard times, a thing which they might do since they have been allowed to get almost absolute control of the means of production. If this be "republican prosperity," the sooner we substitute socialism for republicanism the better.

McKerrow Favors Good Roads Amendment.

The following statement from one of the most widely known and progressive farmers of the state shows the sentiment of most farmers who have given the matter careful thought. This amendment is one which vitally concerns not only the farmers but the prosperity of the state as a whole and every man should resolve that whatever else he votes for in November he will vote for this amendment. The system of state aid is bringing about a great improvement in the roads of other progressive states and Wisconsin should not be behind. So don't forget to vote yes.

"I believe that the highway taxes in Wisconsin in many cases are well expended, but in other districts almost entirely wasted. After carefully considering the system and methods of road building in the state and the use made of our roads under the existing conditions of travel, I have come to the conclusion that for myself I am a believer in state aid for our highways, principally because in this way alone a large volume of property that now does not assist in building country roads will be brought in to carry its share of the burden. The owners of this property in many cases are the users of the automobiles that are now wearing out our roads faster than any other class of vehicles. As a farmer I shall vote for the constitutional amendment this fall, principally upon the above mentioned ground that all tax payers may alike do their share of maintaining the highways of the state."

Will Vote on Road Question

In the notices now being published for the general election in November you will find along with the last statement that you will be called on to vote whether or not you want the state to use part of its funds in holding the farmer to build good roads. At present the farmer pays the whole cost, and yet it is stated by local business men, by railroad presidents and others that they will be financially benefitted by better roads as well as the farmer. It seems to us that not many well informed farmers will vote against this amendment, but will take pains to vote for it themselves and ask their neighbors to vote for it also.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Orin's Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation by stimulating the liver and bowels, and restores the natural action of the bowels. Orin's Laxative Fruit Syrup does not cause griping and is neither too strong nor too weak. Refuse substitutes. Daily Drug & Jewelry Co. and Johnson & Hill Co.

Always Was Boosted.

Look on the record of W. H. Taft and you will find he was always favored by the machine, always favored at the public crib by the grace of the appointive owner. Never elected to an office without having been looked over this record and see if you imagine Mr. Taft would favor anything the political machine by making all offices elective:

1882—Appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of Hamilton county, Ohio.
1883—Appointed collector of internal revenue, First District of Ohio.
1885—Appointed solicitor of Hamilton county, Ohio.
1887—Appointed judge of the Superior Court of Ohio.
1890—Appointed solicitor general of the United States.
1892—Appointed United States Circuit Judge, Sixth District.
1899—Appointed president of United States Philippine Commission.
1901—Appointed first civil governor of the Philippine Islands.
1904—Appointed secretary of war in Roosevelt's cabinet.
1908—Appointed by Theodore Roosevelt as the candidate of the Republican party for president.—Western Advocate.

Why William is the Man.

The Providence Journal makes a most summary of the reasons being advanced to convince us independently why we should vote for Taft.

1. He will pursue the Roosevelt policies.
2. He will not pursue the Roosevelt policies.
3. He is second on the tariff (a) the standpoints are for him, (b) the revisionists are for him.
4. He believes in the sufficiency of the courts.
5. He holds that modifications in judicial procedure might be desirable.
6. Bryan is a radical.
7. Taft is not a reactionary.
8. He is a man of judicial temper and experience.
9. His temper and experience will not be employed to check popular enthusiasm for progressive measures.
10. He is a friend of labor.
11. He is a friend of capital.
12. He stood by the president in the Brownsville matter.
13. He had nothing to do with the Brownsville matter.
14. He triumphed over the allies.
15. The allies are all his supporters.
16. He is all for Hachos.
17. He will not interfere in local politics.
18. He is the prototype of Roosevelt.
19. He is standing alone.
20. His election will insure prosperity.
21. There will be prosperity anyway.

Now the opponents of Mr. Bryan are charging him with being a rich man. There is one consolation, and that is that they cannot accuse him of stealing it while holding public office.

Hereafter county school superintendents in Wisconsin may be appointed by a board in the same way that principals are now appointed. If a proposed bill becomes a law, which is being prepared to be introduced in the next legislature. It is proposed to elect a county board of education, consisting of three members, in each county, said board to have power to appoint a county superintendent and assistants, fix his salary and the salary of his assistants, and his bills for traveling expenses, etc. The board will have authority to secure the best maps available and to make such rules and regulations as do not conflict with existing laws. If this bill becomes a law it will remove the office from politics entirely and place it upon a sound business basis, and the board can pay a salary adequate to secure and retain a competent man.

McKerrow Favors Good Roads Amendment.

The following statement from one of the most widely known and progressive farmers of the state shows the sentiment of most farmers who have given the matter careful thought. This amendment is one which vitally concerns not only the farmers but the prosperity of the state as a whole and every man should resolve that whatever else he votes for in November he will vote for this amendment. The system of state aid is bringing about a great improvement in the roads of other progressive states and Wisconsin should not be behind. So don't forget to vote yes.

"I believe that the highway taxes in Wisconsin in many cases are well expended, but in other districts almost entirely wasted. After carefully considering the system and methods of road building in the state and the use made of our roads under the existing conditions of travel, I have come to the conclusion that for myself I am a believer in state aid for our highways, principally because in this way alone a large volume of property that now does not assist in building country roads will be brought in to carry its share of the burden. The owners of this property in many cases are the users of the automobiles that are now wearing out our roads faster than any other class of vehicles. As a farmer I shall vote for the constitutional amendment this fall, principally upon the above mentioned ground that all tax payers may alike do their share of maintaining the highways of the state."

The Versatile Mr. Taft.

Some of the republican newspapers, but not all of them, would have us believe that Wm. H. Taft has suddenly become a wonder along different lines. He has all of Roosevelt's virtues with none of his faults. Nobody ever heard of his displaying any of them but he has them on top all ready to spring them on the public as soon as he is elected. Some papers say that he is more conservative than Mr. Roosevelt, others that he is the embodiment of Roosevelt. Still others that he can give Roosevelt cards and spades and beat him out at his own game. Some say that his long suit is oratory, others that it is executive ability while others claim that he is more of a mixer than any of them. But the principal thing is that he is the chosen child of Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt wants the people to elect him as their president, and that should be enough without any more questions.

Cured Hay Fever and Summer Cold

A. J. Nussbaum, Lakeside, Indiana, writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold and so did my family. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever and a doctor's prescription did not reach my case, and I took nothing but the cold remedy. I only aggravated my case. Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow package, and it quickly cured me. My wife has since used Foley's Honey and Tar with the same success. A Traveling Man's Experience.

"I must tell you my experience on an East bound O. R. & N. R. R. train from Fond du Lac to La Grange, Ore. writes Sam A. Garber, well known traveling man. 'I was in the smoking department with some other traveling men when one of them went out into the hall and came back and said, 'There is a woman sick unto death in the car. I at once got up and went out, found her very ill with cramp colic; her hands and arms were drawn up so she could not straighten them, and with a deathlike look on her face. Two or three ladies were working with her and giving her whiskey. I went to my seat and got my bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy (I never travel without it), ran to the water tank, put a double dose of the medicine in the glass, poured some water into it and stirred it with a pencil; then I had quite a time to get the ladies to let me give it to her, but I succeeded. I could at once see the effect and worked with her rubbing her hands, and in twenty minutes I gave her another dose. By this time we were almost into Le Grange where I was to leave the train. I gave the bottle to the husband to be used in case another dose should be needed, but by the time the train ran into Le Grange she was all right, and I received the thanks of every passenger in the car.' HANSEN.

The families of Chas. and Fred Lipke left Friday for their future Virginia home at Chatham. The ladies and children were accompanied by Fred and Charley took the car of household goods and live stock. These two families have lived in this vicinity just long enough to prove their success as agriculturalists and stockmen and to extend themselves to a community of neighbors who are sorry for the parting. But what Hansen loses by the move, the little Virginia town gains, and the writer wishes popular sentiment in wishing them "God speed."

The cottony rains Saturday night and all day Sunday made the farmers in this vicinity wear a broad smile as it simplifies matters on the farm. Although too late for pasture it enables fall plowing to be done. Drives away all danger of forest fires and settles about six inches of dust on the roads.

Working the Auto Overtime.

E. W. Sellers completed the filling of his silo on the farm Thursday. When it came time to cut the corn Mr. Sellers was unable to secure power to run his ensilage cutter but luckily he hit upon the idea of running it with his Rambler auto. He ran the auto into the barn, loped it up with the feed cutter, jacked up the hind wheels, threw off a tire and put on a belt. The machine was run on the low speed and as a result the cornstalks were cut as fast as three men could handle them. The only difficulty was the overheating of the engine becoming overheated on account of its running on low speed at a standstill. This was counterbalanced by arranging to run a constant supply of fresh cold water through the cooler. Stevens Point Journal.

POTATO DIGGER

One of the Most Useful of All Farm Implements.
You need the P. & O. Potato Digger not only as a matter of economy but for results. The potato digging season comes when help is scarce and expensive, and time when they leave the farm for the winter work in the north. That is when you need labor saving implements. At such times the P. & O. Potato Digger, on a fair-sized potato patch, will pay for itself in a single day.

One man with a team and this Digger will plow up more potatoes than a dozen men with hoes, and do it better, cleaner and more thoroughly. As this digger plows deep, it goes right under the hill, and turns up all the potatoes without cutting, breaking or bruising them.

The track in front is adjustable either way, and holds the digger in line. The revolving feeder prevents vines from clogging the bottom. The shaker under the grate causes a continuous vibration that thoroughly shakes the potatoes from the soil, leaving them all exposed on the surface. The runners under the grate carry the digger along evenly and smoothly, and prevent the jerking so common on other diggers, and makes them so hard to control. The P. & O. Potato Digger is the only one made with these features, and it is not sold, it is strong enough to last a lifetime.

It is a low-priced digger within the reach of every farmer, and you cannot afford to be without one. Now is the time to get about it. Ask your dealer for the P. & O. Potato Digger, and insist on getting it. Write for beautifully illustrated Pamphlet No. 15, and send it to us in exchange for a P. & O. Catalog, which will be mailed free.

—Don't forget the carriers' annual ball at the Eagles hall next Wednesday evening.

John Reilly of Janesville returned to his home last week, after spending the past two months in the city with friends.

Misses Jona Hofeleter and Alma Lind departed on Tuesday noon for Richwood, Col., where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. Peter Hocker returned to Milwaukee on Tuesday after spending four weeks at the home of her mother, Mrs. Harace Barrett.

Mrs. I. Baruch departed last week for Chicago and Milwaukee where she will spend two weeks looking over the markets and purchasing goods for the fall and winter trade.

Fred Turbin, who had spent several days at Babcock during the past week in the interests of the Kruger & Warner company, returned home on Monday.

Conductor Frank Brown of Paul de Lac arrived in the city on Tuesday with the intention of putting in a few days hunting chickens in this vicinity.

Rev. H. F. Barstow was at Green Bay on Sunday where he attended the annual meeting of the Wisconsin association of the Church of Christ.

Mr. Barstow was elected secretary of the association and Earle M. Pease of this city treasurer.

O. C. Uehling of Milwaukee and A. C. Ostermeyer of Chicago were in the city on Monday to attend the annual meeting of The Wisconsin Ice Machine Co. which was held on Monday at the office of the Grand Rapids Country.

G. S. Hamilton, who resides on his farm south of the city, is preparing to build a brick house thereon. Mr. Hamilton has been engaged in raising chickens during the past two months, and is making quite a success of the venture, and has a number of buildings erected which he is using to his advantage.

Will Nash returned on Thursday from the northern part of the state where he had been fishing for a few days. Will states that the forest fish along the trunk were so close in places that the windows of the car were too hot to bear the naked hand on, while the landscape in places was entirely obscured by the smoke.

The members of the Methodist church held a reception at the church parlors on Friday evening for their pastor, Rev. Richard Evans. Mr. Evans has been retained to this city to have charge of the local church during the coming year, and the members of the congregation are glad to have him back.

Pete of the band boys went to Green Bay on Sunday to play with the Waupun band. The band boys of Waupun were entertained by the business men of Green Bay, and to the music of the rain about 150 went over from Waupun. Those who went over were given a boat ride on the bay and then taken up the river to Dous.

A meeting of the board of directors and inspectors of the Wisconsin Cranberry Sales Co. is being held in this city today. A number of the members of the association are present besides the officers. Matters pertaining to the sale of this year's crop are being discussed. E. P. Arvin is president of the company and J. A. Gaylor secretary.

J. M. Nash returned on Saturday from the northern part of the state where he had spent a week with the congressional party that went there this section for the purpose of inspecting the paper mills. Part of the time while in north was spent in fishing, but there were a great many fires in the woods that made it anything but pleasant for the outdoors.

So far as can be learned the people in the neighborhood of Oshkosh escaped without injury from fire during the dry spell that ended on Saturday. There had been numerous narrow escapes, as many fires were started by passing trains. A pretty close watch was kept, however, and although some of the fires made considerable progress they were confined to sections where the damage was slight.

The play given at the opera house Friday evening "In Wexford" was not attended as largely as it should have been considering the quality of the play and the ability of the actors. Many thought it was going to be one of the blood and thunder sort of plays, but there wasn't a man killed nor wounded during the whole evening. The company carried a large quantity of special scenery which added its share to the general effect.

Rain naturally commenced falling in this section on Saturday afternoon about six o'clock after a drought of five weeks, something very unusual for this section of the country. The rain continued the greater part of Saturday night and it drizzled more or less all day Sunday, wetting things down in pretty good shape. Mr. Maloney, the weather man, reports that there was a precipitation of one and one hundredths inches of water, which, while not near as much as was needed, was nevertheless very welcome. Saturday it was about 80 in the shade and Monday morning mercury stood at 38, and the man with a stove up had a chilly time of it.

Almost anybody will admit that we should have a better and larger water supply than the city now has. We have been passing thru a dry spell during the past few weeks when people should have been encouraged to use their garden hose instead of being warned not to as has been the case. We understand that there is plenty of water in the river that could be pumped into the mains in case of fire, but as this was not done householders have been unable to sprinkle about their property to any extent. The city councilmen have been aware of the shortage for some time past and an effort should be made to increase the supply so that the same conditions will not exist again.

One of the worst features of kidney trouble is that it is an insidious disease and before the victim realizes its danger it has already become a fatal malady. Take Foley's Kidney Cure at the first sign of trouble as it corrects irregularities and prevents Bright's disease and diabetes. Johnson & Hill Co. and Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hirz, who had been spending the past summer in the old country, returned to their home in this city last Wednesday evening. While on their return they had quite an experience on the ocean which they do not care to repeat, but otherwise their trip was unmarred by any unpleasantness. They were on the steamer Moretons on the way back, and when about 400 miles out the boat ran into a sail that cut her steering gear out of commission and damaged her propeller. There was something like five thousand people on the boat, counting the passengers and crew, and when the accident occurred there was a wild time until the passengers had been quieted by the assurances of the officers. The accident delayed them about three days, and everybody was glad to get ashore once more. It was sixteen years since Mr. Hirz left his home in Germany, and he states that it was rather a surprise to him to find how much change there had been in the people in that time. His mother is still living at the old home and he enjoyed his visit with her, as well as with his brothers, but states that there were many times during his stay over there when he would have liked very much to be back here again, and was not sorry when the time came for him to return.

If you should ask Alex Muir which he would rather do or go fishing, there is no question but what it would be fishing with him. Yes, Alex likes to fish, and he likes to catch fish when he fishes. Alex knows all about fishing. He can step to the door any time, look at the river, take a squint at the sky and he will tell you whether the wind is blowing, tell you to a nicety whether there is any use in going out. When the conditions are not right there is no use in fishing, and that is all there is to it. Alex has a friend, or used to have one by the name of George W. Baker. We saw he used to be his friend because Alex has disowned him since last Thursday. On that day Alex and George went up to the Crooked Rib Rod and Reel club house to fight fish and anything else that happened to be about the place. It wasn't a good day for fishing. The river was away down, the wind was blowing too hard and the air was full of smoke any one of which conditions would have made it impossible to catch any fish. This is where George betrayed Alex's confidence. While Alex was browsing around making the slapsacks for supper, George went out with his fishing tackle and dropped in near the shore. He was told that there was no use in fishing and that he was wasting his time and all that sort of thing, but in spite of all this sort of advice he went right on and the consequence was that inside of a quarter of an hour he had landed a four and one-half pound black bass, a regular beauty like you see only once in a half dozen years. George was alluffed up with pride over his feat and of course this only aggravated matters. When a man is told there is no fishing he should have some sense enough to stay in the house and help feed the potatoes and do other odd jobs of that kind.

Keep Your Pluck!

When you acknowledge you're down and out, you're LUCKY. But so long as you swear that you won't give in—That you'll hang-on and bang-on until you win, No matter how hard you are cuffed and kicked, No matter how sadly your faith was tricked—If you just remember what brought you low And keep away from the undertow, It's only a matter of holding tight Before you're back in the big world fight! But the man who pines and the man who whines, Who sulks away from the skirmish lines, Who hasn't the GRIT to swing and hit, And stags his way, never counts a bit. He isn't worth bothering over a minute—He's out of the game and never was in it. A man who is REALLY a man keeps his LUCK, So long as he keeps a good chest full of PLUCK.—Chicago Tribune.

Ganderbone's Forecast for Oct. Now, Taft was enjoying

An aeroplane flight, And skimming around

Like the man-swallow Wright. When who should appear,

Holding fast to his hat And sailing the sky.

But the man from the Platte, Said fast Bill to Platt Bill,

"Now, isn't this great?" Said Bryan, "You bet—"

Is my rider on straight?" And the wind coming up

With a slight show of bluster, They both skidded off

Through the air belly buster.

And while they were flying About a mile high,

The Roosevelt entry Emited a cry:

And Bryan, supposing He'd dropped from the race,

Slowed up with a horrified Look in his face.

But Taft was just floating— "My motor's come out!"

Now, hand me a match When you next come about!"

But Bryan just laughed, And he said, "My dear speeder, Remember that I Am the great matchless leader."

October is from the latin octo, meaning eight. It was the eighth month of the old Roman calendar.

This brought oysters in at the end of August, when they had to be candied like eggs, and the Oyster Trust always cornered the supply in cold storage. But Rome, like every other nation, had a reformer not too often for reasonable profit in business and when Numa Pompilius came into power in 718 B. C. he made October the tenth month and banded the Oyster Trust. He was idolized by a grateful populace, and was only relinquished to private life in his later days that he might gratify his desire to hunt big game in Africa.

The presidential race will reach Three quarters of a mile, And both the Bills will hit it up In good old fashioned style.

The Platte will shake his big brozans And up and down dirt.

The giant Taft will grunt and sweat And zip his undershirt.

The plaudits of the multitude Will rise in mighty roars,

And the watchful Teddy Bear will grin At William Howard's heels.

The pink madcaps of Sonny Jim Will catch the frost descending, And turn a fine autumnal red, with the burning autumn blending; the frost will thin out Mr. Kern's elaborate chin thickets, and each of these hair-braining tails will go soon on his ticket.

The frost will paint the sassafras a deep and glowing red, and the farm hand will resume his howl for blankets on his bed. The plant exuded phosphorus will crosser the air, the shift rheumatic will out on his wind-proof underwear, the southward moving ducks will quack upon the reed beds, and men will line him inside with battered flannel cakes.

The woman will parade beneath the big sky-scraper hats and carry lines strung to steady them will anchor in their rats, and every time the wind blows brisk, with many screams and squeals, they'll all turn turtle and will fan the azure with their heels.

The chamber will unto the woods To live the life of Ormsa And the quail will balance on a rail And whistle like Caruso.

The poor has fever patient will return from his retreat, and every time his nose goes off and honks upon the street, we'll scramble for the nearest curb as fast as we can dart, believing that his lusty sneeze is some skiddooled cart.

The candidate will press his suit and tell his little jokes while he is handing out cigars they name for famous folks; and notwithstanding all the harm this sort of smoke has done us, we'll all walk up again and try his deadly Mrs. Gouness.

After the 26th October will be under the influence of the zodiacal sign Scorpio the crustacean. Persons born in Scorpulo are lobsterers.

and are mostly actors and base ball players. They have remarkable foresight. Among other things, they can tell when the hired girl is going to quit, and always give her notice first.

The armored football player will cavort in padded pants and butt to beat a billy goat while frozen thousands dance. He'll cut the foe with glass hid in his Paderawski mon, and when they pile on sacks he'll do a war dance on the foe.

The college men will all get up and yell like Kingdom Come, the college girls will swallow six or seven zobs of gum, the autumn sun will be obscured by colors, horns and hats, this catapaulting and will cause the other fellows' slats, the slant centers will collide like two oxcart trains, the guards will paw the earth and scramble over another's brains; and when the ambulance drives up, with great vociferation the howling mob will give three cheers for higher education.

The first frost ripened hickory nuts will rattle to the ground. And local onion will cut on the blower all around.

The hunter's moon will suit the kv. The bee will duck the cover. And the other Wright in France will knock

The Elie Tower over. The tower for October is the how. This signifies that the faster are against prohibition in one month of the year, anyway.

Our ad-abouting fleet will throw a scare into Japan, and the Chinese coast until they call the war of An; and old John Hopsfeller will observe October nine, with a big hura dance at Forest Hill and unfurman wine, the third month since he's had to make a payment on that due.

And then November 3rd will come, When all of us shall vote. And one of these two Bills will have To be the Billy goat.

"Count that day lost, before whose setting sun, You have not had at least an hour's fun."

"This said that love makes the world go round so slick, But couldn't fun as well perform the trick?"

Life is short, mix well with joy and laughter. For there will be no fun in either world hereafter."

ONLY ONE "BEST."

"I can recommend Donan's Kidney Pills very highly. I have used them with decided benefit. My kidneys were very weak, and the secretions were highly colored, also filled with a sediment. My back ached a great deal and I had sharp pains through the region of my kidneys. When Donan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a box and commenced using them. They regulated the action of the kidney secretions, strengthened my back and made me feel better in every way. I give Donan's Kidney Pills the entire credit for the change in my condition."

Woman's Club Banquet.

The members of the Women's club held their annual banquet at the training school building on Saturday evening, and it was a most successful affair from start to finish. The rooms in the building were perfectly decorated with evergreens so that they presented a very handsome appearance, and the ladies orchestra was in attendance to furnish music during the evening.

The main and toast were as follows: Miss Rita Mieland acting as toast mistress:

Purple and White Gowns
Our Club Kiva May Pons
Amber Song on toast

Kathleen Colery
Our Guests Joannu Evans Kollon
Kous Turkey

The toast were handled in a very entertaining manner, and this part of the program was enjoyed to the utmost. After the regular program there were a number of impromptu songs by the gentlemen, after which an hour or two was spent in social intercourse. It was a very pleasant evening, greatly enjoyed by those in attendance.

Football Boys Victorious.

The game of football on Saturday between the high school team from this city and the team from Wausau, resulted in an easy victory for the Grand Rapids boys, the visitors having proven too weak and a trifle shy in team work when they got into the game. The local boys played straight football all the way thru and made steady gains whenever they had the ball, while the visitors were unable to make much of a showing.

The day was a hot one for football, but our boys did not seem to mind it particularly and played better and stronger as the game progressed. Our boys certainly showed up well for the first game of the season and lovers of the sport are of the opinion that they will be able to do some good things before the season is over.

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The library will be closed for circulation at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon, Oct. 2nd, on account of Federation meeting.

Saxaphones Ordered.

The members of the Grand Rapids band placed an order for a family of four saxaphones last Friday, and they expect to have them in the future and by the time they give their winter concert the people will probably have a chance to hear some music produced by the new instruments.

The four instruments are a soprano, alto, tenor and baritone, and in connection with the band they will be able to produce music of great value. The cost of the new instruments will be in the neighborhood of four hundred dollars, and as the band as a whole will pay for them, it means that there will have to be some money forthcoming. For this purpose the band will give a series of concerts during the coming winter, one each month during the months of November, December, January, February and March, and the boys hope to furnish even better music at these concerts than they did last year. The band is in better shape than it was a year ago, and Prof. Bliss is of the opinion that they can produce things that will please all music lovers during the coming winter.

The new saxaphones, by the way, will be of the celebrated C. G. Conn make and were ordered thru A. P. Hirsz, the local musical instrument dealer.

Club House Burned.

The Scott and Arvin club house located about eight miles up river was burned last Wednesday, the building having caught from the fire that had been burning in that neighborhood for a number of weeks past. The owners had taken precautions to protect the place, but everything was so dry that a small bit of fire would carry for a long distance. The building was a log cabin affair and cost several hundred dollars to construct.

All those who owned club houses were compelled to keep a close watch of them all last week, as the fire was quite close for several days, and the fact that there was little wind much of the time did much to save them from destruction.

BIGON

Your correspondent was misinformed last week when he stated that Mrs. Percy Kemper was sick. It seems that the lady has been enjoying the best of health, which we are pleased to note.

Mr. Kemper came down from Merrill on Saturday and went Sunday at the Peckham home in this place.

...BUY A WATCH...

Perhaps you bought a watch some thirty years ago. It was a good watch and cost you a good price. It is probably getting old, but how about its time-keeping qualities? You have to wind it with a key. Rather out of date, isn't it?

We have watches to sell and with our reputation at stake, cannot afford to furnish you with anything that we cannot personally guarantee as an accurate time piece.

Better come in and see us about that watch deal, and remember that we have the right prices.
